Summary: Roger Lacey Stevens (1910-1998) was an American theatrical producer and financial backer with more than 200 shows to his credit; an arts administrator who served as the founding chairman of the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts and the first chair of both the National Council on the Arts and the National Endowment for the Arts; and founder, executive officer, and shareholder of numerous commercial and residential real estate businesses that owned iconic buildings including the Empire State Building and Bellevue Biltmore Hotel and pioneered the development of several shopping malls. The collection, which documents all aspects of Stevens's life and career, contains awards and certificates; clippings; correspondence; daily calendars, schedules and telephone logs; financial records; invitations; photographs; realia; scrapbooks; and speeches and writings. Materials specific to his arts administration and theatrical careers include actor and crew contracts; audition and casting materials; box office reports, posters, production stills, programs, and publicity material; rehearsal schedules; reviews; and scripts. Materials specific to his real estate work include construction plans, purchase contracts and agreements, incorporation and dissolution papers, and leases.

Acquisition Information

Roger L. Stevens donated the initial 99 boxes of materials located in his Kennedy Center office between 1994 and 1996. Christine G. Stevens made two donations of additional materials in 1998 and 2002. Christabel Stevens Gough donated the remainder of the material held by the family in 2003 and 2004.

In 2021, Laura Wynn, on behalf of Animal Welfare Institute, donated one letter and 96 of the Stevenses personal photographs that were found in the AWI files.

Accruals

No further accruals are expected.

Processing History

Walter Zvonchenko and William Nelson arranged and rehoused parts of the collection in preparation for the 2002 Library of Congress exhibition "Roger Stevens Presents."

Mónica Hurd, Morgen Stevens-Garmon, Anita Weber, and Melissa Young began work on the collection in March 2020, completed processing in April 2022, and coded the finding aid.

Additional Description

The Library of Congress Information Bulletin contains two articles on the Roger L. Stevens Papers: Roger Stevens Collection Documents a Life in the Arts, 56, no. 6 (24 March 1997) and Presenting a Stage for a Nation: Exhibition Portrays Genius of Roger L. Stevens, 61, no. 5 (May 2002).

A brief introduction to the Roger L. Stevens papers (including eleven digital items) is provided as part of a short preview of the Library of Congress Web exhibition at Roger L. Stevens Presents.

Transfers

Ten audiocassettes, eleven VHS tapes, one u-matic tape, and one compact disc from the Roger L. Stevens Papers have been transferred to the Library of Congress Motion Picture, Broadcasting, and Recorded Sound Division where they are identified as the Roger L. Stevens Collection (MAVIS collection no. 17586). An inventory of this material is available in the Music Division's collection file.

Other Repositories

North Carolina State University holds the Animal Welfare Institute Records, 1930-2003 which document the organization's history from its founding in 1951 by Christine G. Stevens. Roger L. Stevens served as the initial treasurer for AWI and Christine Stevens remained active with the organization until her death. The Animal Rights Network Oral History Collection, 1999-2002 at the same repository includes several 1999 interviews with Christine Stevens.

Scope and Content Note

The Roger L. Stevens Papers span from 1863 to 2002, but the bulk of material encompasses Stevens's active professional life between 1935 and 1990. Collection materials are organized in two ways: by facets of Stevens's career and by function or material type.

Documentation of Stevens's activities as an arts administrator, a theatrical producer, and a real estate executive are divided into separate series, although there is significant overlap between all three areas. The most intertwined materials concern Stevens's work in arts administration and theatrical production. He served as the founding chairman for the National Endowment for the Arts, the National Council on the Arts, and the National Cultural Center (later named the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts), all while continuing to produce plays and musicals on Broadway. Stevens's efforts to establish a national cultural center, advocate for a national theater, and raise the profile of and support for the performing arts in the United States are found under Arts Administration. Stevens's Government Appointments are organized as a separate subseries. The Subject Files subseries provides further evidence of Stevens's advocacy for arts funding. The Producing Organizations subseries contains information about the activities of Stevens's various producing partnerships with material on office operations, tax records, and financial reports for a number of individual productions organized under the producing entity.

Stevens's career as a theatrical producer is primarily documented in Theatrical Production Files. A subseries of Theatrical Offerings and a subseries of Unproduced Scripts contain material on proposed productions. The largest subseries, Production Files, holds material related to specific plays and musicals in which Stevens held a financial stake. While hundreds of plays and other stage productions are represented, most of the material is limited in scope. For some shows there is merely a program or production still. Several shows are extensively documented-- 1776, The Best Man, Candide, The Cocktail Hour, Conduct Unbecoming, The Jockey Club Stakes, Mary, Mary, and Sheep on the Runway—with casting information, contracts, correspondence, financial reports, and/or scripts. This subseries includes a folder of production lists that record his financial involvement in each of the works he produced. A list of Stevens's theatrical credits between 1949 and 1987 is available in an appendix to this finding aid.

Information about less well-documented productions is found in the Correspondence - People series. Correspondence with figures such as Donald Albery, Nobuko Morris Albery, Hugh "Binkie" Beaumont, Henry Denker, Ninon Tallon Karlweis, Lars Schmidt, and Emmanuel Wax provide insight into the production process and help illustrate Stevens's international network of associates. The series contains hundreds of letters, notes, and telegrams that touch on every aspect of Stevens's professional life and include many personal communications within his wide social circle.

Before Stevens was an arts administrator or theatrical producer, he was a real estate executive. Real Estate Files, the largest series in the collection, documents Stevens's work buying, selling, building, and developing several commercial and residential real estate properties across the United States. Materials are organized into subseries by region or specific project, but just as with his work in the arts, there are significant overlaps between projects. Stevens also created partnerships across industries that brought his colleagues in theater to his real estate endeavors and vice versa.

Stevens ran his various endeavors from multiple offices, initially located in Michigan, but later in New York City and Washington, D. C. These offices communicated regularly and maintained Stevens's calendar, telephone logs, and carbon copies of his outgoing correspondence. The Office Files series represents a cross-section of activities that tracked Stevens's different enterprises and include extensive files of clippings, personal financial records, and materials on his business interests outside of the arts and real estate.

Stevens's active participation as a board member, officer, and advisor for a wide array of arts-related organizations is primarily documented in the Organizations series. It consists of correspondence and operational materials such as agendas and meeting minutes. Several particularly extensive sets of files include those for the American National Theatre and Academy, American Shakespeare Festival and Academy, Choate School/Choate Rosemary Hall, Metropolitan Opera Association, National Book Awards/National Book Committee, and Wolf Trap Foundation for the Performing Arts. Materials on Stevens's work with advocacy, funding, and performing arts organizations is also found in the Subject Files subseries under Arts Administration.

For his many career achievements, Stevens was honored by several arts organizations, community groups, and state and national governments. The Awards and Honors series collates these numerous recognitions, including his Tony Awards, Presidential Medal of Freedom, National Medal for the Arts, and Kennedy Center Honors ribbon.

Stevens's early life is documented in the Personal Papers series and includes memorabilia, photographs, school records, and correspondence with his family members. The series contains the personal correspondence and business papers of his parents Stanley G. and Florence O. Stevens. The papers of Stevens's wife, Christine G. Stevens, are organized as a separate subseries that holds her personal correspondence as well as logs recording the early activities of the Animal Welfare Institute, an organization Christine founded in 1951.

Series

Arts Administration, 1935-1998

Roger L. Stevens spent a significant portion of his career establishing and managing arts organizations. He worked in both the public and private sectors to extend the reach of the arts to all areas of the country. This series documents Stevens's role as an advocate, administrator, and funder of the arts—particularly the performing arts—as a government appointee, business manager, and advisor.

Materials consist of agendas, bills, brochures, clippings, contracts and agreements, correspondence, financial reports, incorporation and dissolution papers, meeting minutes, photographs, programs, realia, reports, salary lists, speeches and writings, tax filings, and travel records that document Stevens's activities.

Organized alphabetically as three subseries.

Government Appointments, 1960-1998

This subseries documents Stevens's role as a presidential advisor, the first chairman of the National Council on the Arts (NCA) and the National Endowment for the Arts (NEA), and founding chairman of the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts. It consists of agendas, clippings, correspondence, meeting minutes, photographs, programs, reports, speeches and writings, and travel documents.

Between 1961 and 1969, Stevens simultaneously held four government appointments: chairman of the NCA, chairman of the NEA, chairman of the board of the National Cultural Center (renamed the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in 1964), and special assistant for cultural affairs to Lyndon B. Johnson. These positions, while separate, were also inter-related: the NCA advises the NEA, with the chair of the NEA also chairing the arts council. The organization of the Government Appointments subseries reflects this complex relationship.

The National Council on the Arts - National Endowment for the Arts (NCA-NEA) sub-subseries documents activities related to the formation and management of both organizations from their inception to the end of the Johnson administration in early 1969. This included establishing the advisory panels, conducting meetings, and traveling across the country to promote both the arts and the new arts organizations. Stevens's position as arts advisor to President Johnson fully overlapped his NCA tenure with his activities managed from the NCA office and interfiled with them.

The National Cultural Center - John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts (NCC-KC) sub-subseries documents activities related to the formation and management of that organization from Stevens's appointment by President Kennedy, to his death in 1998. The materials are incomplete as the collection holds just those documents Stevens had in his Kennedy Center office while the Center itself retained its operating files. While the sub-subseries is most rich for the period 1961-1979 when Stevens worked to get the center funded and opened, there is not extensive documentation for any one activity. Correspondence in this sub-subseries provides further insight into Stevens's role producing shows at the Kennedy Center with materials related to specific theatrical productions located in the Theatrical Production Files series

Both the NCA-NEA and NCC-KC sub-subseries contain extensive sets of speeches that Stevens gave at congressional hearings and cultural organization events and dedications, as well as writings that collectively provide his vision of and advocacy for the performing arts in society and the need for a national theater. Unless otherwise noted, all speeches and writings are by Stevens.

The Organizations Affiliated with the John F. Kennedy Center sub-subseries documents several of the organizations that came under the Kennedy Center's purview. The American Film Institute and Fund for New American Plays are extensively documented. The President's Task Force on the Arts and the Humanities sub-subseries documents Stevens's role in this group to which he was first appointed by Ronald Reagan. Arranged as four sub-subseries.

BOX 26-39, 397, 411, 426 Producing Organizations, 1935-1996

This subseries documents the business side of Stevens's producing activities through material from some twenty different production enterprises with which he was involved. These range from decades-long enterprises, such as the American National Theatre and Academy, to short-term play-producing entities, such as Roger L. Stevens and Joel Schenker Productions, that lasted just long enough to mount one play. Materials consist of bills, contracts and agreements, correspondence, financial reports, incorporation and dissolution papers, meeting minutes, programs, salary lists, reports, and tax records.

Arranged alphabetically by organization name.

BOX 40-54, 397, 405, 411 Subject Files, 1950-1997
MAPCASE FOLDER 7

This subseries documents Stevens's involvement with advocacy organizations such as the Business Committee for the Arts, performing organizations such as Cleveland's Hanna Theatre and the North Carolina School for the Arts, and funding organizations such as the JDR 3rd Fund. It contains brochures, clippings, correspondence, meeting minutes and agendas, photographs, programs, realia, reports, and speeches and writings.

Arranged alphabetically by organization name or subject.

BOX 55-109, 397, 401, 404, 411, 426, 432-433 Theatrical Production Files, 1908-1997 (bulk 1949-1990)

Stevens produced a considerable number of shows, both on- and off-Broadway. He also financially backed productions, often without attribution in the program. He was actively involved in his productions at all levels, from selecting scripts to obtaining backers to hosting opening night parties and sending gifts to his casts. This series documents Stevens's myriad productions, as well as the many works submitted to his office for consideration. Materials related to specific production companies are located under Arts Administration in the Producing Organizations subseries and within the Kennedy Center Productions, Inc. folder in the National Cultural Center - Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts sub-subseries.

Organized alphabetically as three subseries.

BOX 55-102, 397, 401, 404, 411, 426, 432-433 Production Files, 1908-1997 (bulk 1949-1990)

This subseries documents more than 400 plays and other staged events produced, backed, or supported by Roger L. Stevens as an individual or through the various entities with which he was connected, including: American National Theatre and Academy (ANTA), the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, Playwrights' Theatre, Producers' Theatre, Stevens Productions, and Whitehead-Stevens. Also included here are plays produced in England and France.

Materials consist of actor and crew contracts, audition and casting materials, budgets, box office reports, clippings, correspondence, financial reports, invoices and check stubs, play company contracts, posters, programs, production stills, rehearsal schedules, reviews, scrapbooks, and scripts.

Most productions lack extensive documentation; some are only represented through a program or single production still. Well-documented productions include 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, Candide, The Cocktail Hour, Conduct Unbecoming, Double Cross, Jockey Club Stakes, Jumpers, Mary, Mary, A Piece of My Heart, The Pleasure of His Company, She Loves Me, and Sheep on the Runway.

Programs and photographs are typically located in the front of a folder or the first folder where there are multiple files for a production. Programs for British and French productions of plays are included regardless of whether Stevens was involved in the production, as he often attended these performances prior to mounting his own.

Arranged alphabetically by production title.

BOX 102-104

Theatrical Offerings, 1951-1993

Correspondence, proposed budgets, and script summaries and recommendations for plays sent on spec or solicited by Stevens and his various production companies.

Arranged alphabetically by title of play.

BOX 105-109

Unproduced Scripts, 1955-1993

Typescript drafts of plays, some with accompanying correspondence, sent on spec to Stevens's various production companies.

Arranged alphabetically by author.

BOX 110-143, 413

Correspondence - People, 1929-1997

This series consists of personal and business correspondence sent and received by Roger L. Stevens. It documents all phases of Stevens's career and includes letters from playwrights and authors about their work, correspondence about theatrical productions, and business correspondence concerning investments and other matters. It also includes personal correspondence with his extensive set of friends and acquaintances, such as convalescence letters, invitations, and thank you notes.

Additional business correspondence is found throughout the collection, particularly in Arts Administration, Theatrical Production Files, Organizations, and Real Estate Files. An extensive set of personal correspondence with Stevens and Gesell family members is located in Personal Papers.

Arranged alphabetically in two subseries.

Alphabetical, 1929-1997

Correspondents in this subseries include United States presidents Jimmy Carter, Gerald Ford, Lyndon B. Johnson, Richard Nixon, and Ronald Reagan; political figures such as Hubert Humphrey, Adlai E. Stevenson, Jr., Edward M. Kennedy, and business associates Alfred R. Glancy Jr., Ben Tobin, G. Harold Welch, and John Wharton.

In the theatrical realm there is correspondence with agents Ninon Tallon Karlweis, Lucy Kroll, Robert Lantz, Emmanuel Wax, and Audrey Wood; impresarios and producers including Hugh "Binkie" Beaumont, Frederick Brisson, Hal Prince, Lars Schmidt, and Robert Whitehead; playwrights Christopher Fry, A. R. Gurney, Arthur Kopit, Harold Pinter, and Stanley Young; lighting and set designer Peggy Clark, choreographer Agnes DeMille, and scenic designer Oliver Smith; and actors Hume Cronyn, Douglas Fairbanks Jr., Katharine Hepburn, Charlton Heston, Alfred Lunt, and Gregory Peck. Also included are several photographs, floor plans, and scripts that accompanied correspondence.

This subseries contains the bulk of the correspondence files.
Arranged alphabetically by correspondent name.

Chronological, 1950-1995

This subseries is almost exclusively photocopies of correspondence of unclear origin.

While most, if not all, of the documents can also be found throughout the collection, particularly in the Theatrical Production Files and Correspondence – Alphabetical files, the files do provide a chronological view of Stevens's activities, particularly in the theatrical realm. A sizeable volume of chronological correspondence is also located in the Office Files series.

Arranged chronologically by year and month.

Organizations, 1951-1998

This series documents Stevens's participation in organizations associated with his business and personal interests. It consists of agendas and board meeting minutes, announcements, audit reports, board books, budgets, campaign literature, correspondence, financial statements, fundraising materials, organizational literature, programs, publicity material, realia, reports, and schedules.

Organized alphabetically into three subseries.

Board Membership Activity, 1951-1996

Stevens had a policy of joining only those boards where he knew he would be an active participant. The approximately 50 organizations represented in this subseries provide evidence of that commitment. There are extensive files for the Academy of Poets, the American Shakespeare Festival and Academy, the Choate School/Choate Rosemary Hall, the Metropolitan Opera Association, the National Book Committee and its successor the National Book Awards, and the Wolf Trap Foundation for the Performing Arts. In most instances Stevens served on these boards in a financial capacity, but in some cases he also provided leadership and administrative support. The National Book Committee/National Book Awards files document the significant role Stevens played in ensuring the continuation of that organization as it navigated a period of financial difficulty.

This subseries consists of agendas and board meeting minutes, audit reports, board books, budgets, correspondence, financial statements, programs, publicity material, and reports.

Arranged alphabetically by organization name and chronologically therein.

Other Organizational Activity, 1953-1998

This subseries documents Stevens's membership and participation in a variety of cultural, social, educational, and non-governmental organizations, including the Aspen Institute for Humanistic Studies, Salzburg Seminar, Urban Coalition, and many others. Two extensive sets of files concern Stevens's involvement in private clubs: the Bohemian Club (mainly arrangements for attending the summer encampment) and the Century Association (primarily documenting Stevens's nomination of new members).

Materials consist of agendas, announcements, correspondence, organizational literature, and programs and schedules.

Arranged alphabetically by organization name.

Political Fundraising Activity, 1952-1990

The bulk of the subseries documents Stevens's brief but active role in national politics as a member of the Democratic National Committee between 1952 and 1960 and as the treasurer of Adlai E. Stevenson's 1956 presidential campaign. Later in life Stevens was a regular supporter of Democratic congressional candidates including Les Aspin, Birch Bayh, John Brademas, Frank Church, Tom Foley, Claiborne Pell, but also supported Republican candidates such as Charles Percy who he met and worked with during the years as an advocate for the National Council on the Arts and the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts. Correspondence with these and other candidates is located in the Political Fundraising folders.

This subseries contains campaign literature, correspondence, financial statements, fundraising materials, and reports. Realia includes ribbons from the 1954 New York state Democratic convention and Stevens's 1960 Democratic Convention Finance Committee chairmanship; campaign buttons and pins for Jimmy Carter, W. Averell Harriman, Hubert Humphrey, Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., Adlai E. Stevenson, and Stuart Symington; and convention name tags and ribbons.

Arranged alphabetically by campaign or subject.

BOX 185-240, 428-430 Office Files, 1937-2000

This series documents a cross section of Stevens's business interests through clippings, daily calendars detailing his whereabouts, telephone logs, and a correspondence reading file with chronologically organized carbon copies of outgoing mail. Invitations and event programs are evidence of the many parties, receptions, private concerts, and art openings the Stevenses were asked to attend; dinner party and reception planning documents also record the many events the Stevenses hosted. Financial records contain a wide range of personal and professional expenditures, including the personal tax records for both Roger L. Stevens and Christine G. Stevens, miscellaneous bills and receipts, and information on checking accounts and investment portfolios with banks such as Irving Trust Company and Morgan Guaranty Trust Company, both of which are represented elsewhere in the collection.

Stevens collected information on investment opportunities with the newspaper the Honolulu Star Bulletin, Tiffany and Company, and electronics manufacturer Technical Services, Inc. A file on Thorley House of Flowers reveals professional and personal contacts to whom he sent flowers in the late 1950s. Writings by Stevens detail his thoughts on the real estate industry. The series also holds the business papers of Rolace, Inc., an office management company that addressed the administrative needs of Stevens's theatrical, real estate, and other business endeavors between 1965 and 1972.

Biographical information in this subseries summarizes Stevens's extensive career and includes an unpublished biography by John Ehle. Stevens's birth certificate, passports, and documentation of his brief service in the United States Navy are found here, as are materials on personal club memberships, and leases and correspondence connected to the Stevenses' residences in Ann Arbor, New York City, and Washington, D. C. Also found here are several items of memorabilia given to Stevens. A folder on paintings records the Stevenses' ownership of a Rouen Cathedral painting by Claude Monet as well as other works of art they owned. The Stevenses' financial records are organized within Office Files. Several folders contain cards and letters sent to Stevens while he was convalescing after his triple bypass heart surgery in 1981. Carbon copies of Stevens's responses are attached to the correspondence. Material on Stevens's memorial service includes the invitation, attendee lists, guest books, and planning documents.

Stevens's correspondence with his family includes letters from his older brother Larry, Larry's wife Sally, his younger brother Harlow, his daughter Christabel, and his wife Christine. For letters from Stevens to Christine, see the Christine G. Stevens subseries. Family papers also hold business papers and correspondence from his parents Stanley G. and Florence O. Stevens. Stanley's papers document real estate and other business activities while Florence's papers consist of personal correspondence, financial records, and school records. Roger Stevens's school records are also found in the subseries documenting his time at Choate School and the University of Michigan. Material types include assignments, correspondence, ephemera, and report cards.

Photographs consist of snapshots of Stevens in his youth and his family, formal portraits, and images of Stevens with others at both formal and casual events. This subseries contains photographs of Stevens with every United States president and first lady from John and Jacqueline Kennedy to Bill and Hillary Clinton. Others pictured with Stevens include figures from the political world such as Cecil D. Andrus, David K. E. Bruce, Hubert Humphrey, Philip M. Klutznick, Imelda Marcos, and Walter Mondale; prominent figures in the arts such as Frederick Brisson, Plácido Domingo, Charlton Heston, Carlo Mazzoui-Clementi, Marianne Moore, Leontyne Price, Richard Rodgers, Rosalind Russell, and Isaac Stern; and, members of Washington, D. C. society such as Gwendolyn Cafritz and Catherine Filene Shouse.

Programs included in this subseries document productions Stevens attended. For programs of productions that were produced or otherwise financially backed by Stevens, refer to the Theatrical Production Files.

Christine G. Stevens, 1932-2001

Christine Gesell Stevens was born on March 10, 1918, in St. Louis, Missouri, the only child of Robert E. Gesell (1886-1954) and Cora Lees Gesell (1883-1976). The family moved to Ann Arbor, Michigan, in 1923, when Robert Gesell became chair of the Department of Physiology at the University of Michigan. A folder of Robert Gesell's personal correspondence and papers is included in this subseries. Christine attended the University of Michigan and later studied at the Society of Arts and Crafts in Detroit. Several of her drawings are collected here, although some of the sketchbooks may contain the work of her daughter Christabel. Christine drew the Stevens' annual Christmas card, many examples of which are housed here. Also present is correspondence with and between her mother and daughter and letters from her in-laws, Stanley and Florence Stevens. One full document box consists of condolence letters and cards sent to Christine Stevens after her husband's death in 1998.

In 1951, Christine Stevens founded the Animal Welfare Institute and remained a lifelong advocate for the fair and ethical treatment of animals. Detailed logs of AWI's first decade are found in this subseries, as is correspondence with fellow animal rights activist Madeline Bemelmans. Business papers and financial records document some of Christine Stevens's investments in her husband's real estate endeavors. Both Christine Stevens and her mother were listed as individual investors for several projects, and their names appear throughout the Real Estate Files. Christine Gesell Stevens died on October 10, 2002, in Washington D. C.

This series consists of certificates, citations, medals, plaques, and other three-dimensional awards given to Roger L. Stevens in recognition and appreciation of his contributions to various arts organizations; colleges and universities; and city, state, and national governments. In addition to being awarded both the Presidential Medal of Freedom and the National Medal for the Arts, Stevens was also named a Knight Commander of the British Empire and received medals from the governments of Austria, Germany (West), Italy, and Sweden. Stevens was granted at least 13 honorary degrees, including one from the University of Michigan, an institution he briefly attended. Also found in this series are awards for shows Stevens produced, including a Drama Desk award for Annie (1977); an Outer Critics Circle award for She Loves Me (1994); and Tony Awards for Death of a Salesman (1984) and On Your Toes (1983). Folders also contain correspondence, programs, itineraries, and photographs connected to the awards ceremonies and events.

The largest series in the collection, these files document Roger L. Stevens's role as the founder, executive, or shareholder of numerous commercial and residential real estate businesses. Material types include agreements, articles of incorporation, contracts, construction plans, correspondence, financial records, leases, legal documents, meeting minutes, photographs, stock certificates, and sales documents.

Organized as five subseries according to geographic region or subject.

BOX 263-278, 400, 419, Buildings, 1933-1994
424 MAPCASE FOLDER 12

This subseries holds records for three hotels and five office buildings in which Roger L. Stevens owned a controlling interest. In 1950, Stevens purchased a controlling share in the Belleview-Biltmore Hotel in Belleair, Florida. He maintained at least partial ownership in the property until it was sold in 1990. Present here are the sale closing documents for the hotel as well as agreements, correspondence, daily reports, financial statements, and promotional materials.

In 1955, Stevens was part of a syndicate that briefly owned the Beverly Wilshire Hotel in Beverly Hills, California, buying and selling the complex in the same year. In 1961, Stevens partnered with Hernando Courtright to re-purchase the hotel and maintained an interest in the building into the 1980s. Folders contain correspondence, financial records for the hotel, and documentation on the Courtright Corporation. Through his companies Rostev Realty Corporation and Stevens Development Corporation, Stevens was for a brief time a shareholder of the Commodore Hotel in New York City. Materials include documents on the acquisition of common stock, correspondence, financial records, legal documents, and meeting minutes.

As part of a syndicate, Stevens briefly owned the Empire State Building from 1951 to 1954 and the acquisitions documents of that purchase are found here. He went on to be a partial owner of several other office buildings, including the Cleveland Terminal Tower, the Bankers Building in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, the Wilcox Building in Portland, Oregon, and the Squibb Building at 745 Fifth Avenue in New York City. Stevens was partial owner of the Squibb Building between 1953 and 1955, but he maintained offices there into the early 1970s. Materials include correspondence, financial records, floor plans, meeting minutes, and sales and closing documents.

Midwest (Missouri and Ohio), 1905-1988 (bulk 1957-1972)

Materials in this subseries record the acquisition, mergers, and liquidation of small department store chains in the Midwest region, as well as the construction and leasing of a shopping mall. In 1960, Stevens led a group with N. S. Potter III, Charles W. Lyon Jr., and Ezra K. Zilka to form Midwest Holdings Corporation. The purpose of the company was to buy and sell the assets of the Kobacker's department store chain. Although Kobacker's was headquartered in Ohio, material on stores based in Buffalo, New York, are housed in this subseries. Transactions also involved other department stores such as Federal's, Davidson Bros., and Tiedke's. Midwest Holdings later merged with R. R. Leaseholds, Inc., a corporation that was also involved in the construction and leasing of River Roads Shopping Mall in Jennings, Missouri. The mall was administered by the Stevens-run River Roads Properties, Inc. which also garnered support from Stevens's Seattle based company, University Properties, Inc. This subseries also holds material on smaller projects Stevens worked on in the region such as the Bolton Square Hotel and the Ohio Center.

Material types include agreements, architectural plans, construction records, contracts, correspondence, financial records, leases, meeting minutes, operating summaries, photographs, stock certificates, and tenant agreements.

New Haven, Connecticut, 1928-1988 (bulk 1957-1970)

This subseries documents the development of the Chapel Square Mall in downtown New Haven, Connecticut. Between 1958 and 1961, Stevens founded three separate but overlapping entities to oversee the construction and leasing of the mall: Stevens Church Street Corporation, Stevens New Haven Associates, and Stevens New Haven Development Co., Inc. Architectural firms John Graham and Company and Lathrop Douglass, Inc. were engaged to design and build the mall, and this subseries holds extensive architectural drawings, invoices, mechanical specifications, and reports related to the mall's construction. Agreements, correspondence, and financial records from the Edw. Malley Co. record that local department store's involvement with the project. Materials from the Church Street Redevelopment Project document the history of urban planning in New Haven. Also found here is correspondence with Yale University and mayor of New Haven, Richard C. Lee. Other materials include clippings, contracts, leases, meeting minutes, photographs, stock certificates, transaction records, and materials on tenants.

Arranged alphabetically by organization name and by material type therein.

Seattle, Washington, 1871-2002 (bulk 1953-1997)

Stevens's involvement in the Seattle real estate market began in 1953 when he partnered with Alfred R. Glancy Jr., Ben Tobin, and H. Adams Ashforth to form University Properties, Inc. The real estate firm managed the leases on a tract of land owned by the University of Washington in the center of downtown Seattle. Known as the Metropolitan Tract, it encompasses the Rainer Tower, Puget Sound Plaza, IBM Building, and Union Square buildings one and two. In 1975, University Properties, Inc. rebranded and became UNICO Properties, Inc. UNICO maintained the management of the University of Washington's leases throughout Stevens's lifetime. This subseries holds business records and correspondence between UNICO's board of directors, presidents, and CEOs including James M. Ryan, Donald Covey, and Dave Cortelyou. Other materials include agreements, clippings, financial records, legal documents, meeting minutes, operating summaries, photographs, project reports, and other operation records.

Also found in this subseries are materials documenting the management of additional properties in Seattle such as the World Trade Center Seattle, the Raja Tract, the Seneca Street project, and the remodeling and reopening of the Fifth Avenue Theater. Fifth Avenue Theater folders contain information on Stevens's theatrical pursuits on the west coast.

Arranged alphabetically according to organization or project name and by material type therein.

Other Projects, 1909-1998

This subseries consists of several real estate projects and companies that Stevens either ran or partnered with across the United States. Major file groups include Morgan-Peacock Properties Corp. which had properties in California, Virginia, and Michigan and Rostev Realty Corporation and Stevens Development Corporation, two companies founded and run by Stevens. Materials from both of these companies are also included in the other Real Estate Files subseries, and invoices for Stevens Development Corp. are found in the Government Appointments and Producing Organizations subseries under Arts Administration.

Smaller scale projects include Steven's involvement with several hotels, potential projects that never came to fruition, and real estate opportunities that Stevens may or may not have pursued. Notable potential projects include the development of New York City's Lincoln Square site and the Roosevelt field project on the then-named Welfare Island. Also found in this subseries are Stevens's business correspondence with investors such as G. Harold Welch and Frederick C. Weyher who were involved with several different projects. Other material types include agreements, annual reports, architectural plans, clippings, financial records, incorporation documents, meeting minutes, prospectus, and sales documents.

It consists of agendas, clippings, correspondence, meeting minutes, photographs, programs, reports, speeches and writings, and travel documents. Between 1961 and 1969, Stevens simultaneously held four government appointments: chairman of the NCA, chairman of the NEA, chairman of the board of the National Cultural Center (renamed the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in 1964), and special assistant for cultural affairs to Lyndon B. Johnson. These positions, while separate, were also inter-related: the NCA advises the NEA, with the chair of the NEA also chairing the arts council. The organization of the Government Appointments subseries reflects this complex relationship. The National Council on the Arts - National Endowment for the Arts (NCA-NEA) sub-subseries documents activities related to the formation and management of both organizations from their inception to the end of the Johnson administration in early 1969. This included establishing the advisory panels, conducting meetings, and traveling across the country to promote both the arts and the new arts organizations. Stevens's position as arts advisor to President Johnson fully overlapped his NCA tenure with his activities managed from the NCA office and interfiled with them. The National Cultural Center - John F. The materials are incomplete as the collection holds just those documents Stevens had in his Kennedy Center office while the Center itself retained its operating files. While the sub-subseries is most rich for the period 1961-1979 when Stevens worked to get the center funded and opened, there is not extensive documentation for any one activity. 	producing shows at the Kennedy Center with materials related to specific theatrical productions located in the Theatrical Production Files series
	Both the NCA-NEA and NCC-KC sub-subseries contain extensive sets of speeches that Stevens gave at congressional hearings and cultural organization events and dedications, as well as writings that collectively provide his vision of and advocacy for the performing arts in society and the need for a national theater. Unless otherwise noted, all speeches and writings are by Stevens.
	The Organizations Affiliated with the John F. Kennedy Center sub-subseries documents several of the organizations that came under the Kennedy Center's purview. The American Film Institute and Fund for New American Plays are extensively documented.
	The President's Task Force on the Arts and the Humanities sub-subseries documents Stevens's role in this group to which he was first appointed by Ronald Reagan.

BOX 26-39, 397, 411, 426	Producing Organizations, 1935-1996  This subseries documents the business side of Stevens's producing activities through material from some twenty different production enterprises with which he was involved. These range from decades-long enterprises, such as the American National Theatre and Academy, to short-term play-producing entities, such as Roger L. Stevens and Joel Schenker Productions, that lasted just long enough to mount one play. Materials consist of bills, contracts and agreements, correspondence, financial reports, incorporation and dissolution papers, meeting minutes, programs, salary lists, reports, and tax records. Arranged alphabetically by organization name.

Stevens produced a considerable number of shows, both on- and off-Broadway. He also financially backed productions, often without attribution in the program. He was actively involved in his productions at all levels, from selecting scripts to obtaining backers to hosting opening night parties and sending gifts to his casts. This series documents Stevens's myriad productions, as well as the many works submitted to his office for consideration. Materials related to specific production companies are located under Arts Administration in the Producing Organizations subseries and within the Kennedy Center Productions, Inc. folder in the National Cultural Center - Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts sub-subseries.

Organized alphabetically as three subseries.

BOX 55-102, 397, 401, 404, 411, 426, 432-433     Production Files, 1908-1997 (bulk 1949-1990)

This subseries documents more than 400 plays and other staged events produced, backed, or supported by Roger L. Stevens as an individual or through the various entities with which he was connected, including: American National Theatre and Academy (ANTA), the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, Playwrights' Theatre, Producers' Theatre, Stevens Productions, and Whitehead-Stevens. Also included here are plays produced in England and France.

Materials consist of actor and crew contracts, audition and casting materials, budgets, box office reports, clippings, correspondence, financial reports, invoices and check stubs, play company contracts, posters, programs, production stills, rehearsal schedules, reviews, scrapbooks, and scripts.

Most productions lack extensive documentation; some are only represented through a program or single production still. Well-documented productions include 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, Candide, The Cocktail Hour, Conduct Unbecoming, Double Cross, Jockey Club Stakes, Jumpers, Mary, Mary, A Piece of My Heart, The Pleasure of His Company, She Loves Me, and Sheep on the Runway.

Programs and photographs are typically located in the front of a folder or the first folder where there are multiple files for a production. Programs for British and French productions of plays are included regardless of whether Stevens was involved in the production, as he often attended these performances prior to mounting his own.

Arranged alphabetically by production title.

BOX 144-174, 431, 433-434 MAPCASE FOLDER 5	Board Membership Activity, 1951-1996 Stevens had a policy of joining only those boards where he knew he would be an active participant. The approximately 50 organizations represented in this subseries provide evidence of that commitment. There are extensive files for the Academy of Poets, the American Shakespeare Festival and Academy, the Choate School/Choate Rosemary Hall, the Metropolitan Opera Association, the National Book Committee and its successor the National Book Awards, and the Wolf Trap Foundation for the Performing Arts. In most instances Stevens served on these boards in a financial capacity, but in some cases he also provided leadership and administrative support. The National Book Committee/ National Book Awards files document the significant role Stevens played in ensuring the continuation of that organization as it navigated a period of financial difficulty. This subseries consists of agendas and board meeting minutes, audit reports, board books, budgets, correspondence, financial statements, programs, publicity material, and reports.

Other Organizational Activity, 1953-1998

This subseries documents Stevens's membership and participation in a variety of cultural, social, educational, and non-governmental organizations, including the Aspen Institute for Humanistic Studies, Salzburg Seminar, Urban Coalition, and many others. Two extensive sets of files concern Stevens's involvement in private clubs: the Bohemian Club (mainly arrangements for attending the summer encampment) and the Century Association (primarily documenting Stevens's nomination of new members). Materials consist of agendas, announcements, correspondence, organizational literature, and programs and schedules.

This series documents a cross section of Stevens's business interests through clippings, daily calendars detailing his whereabouts, telephone logs, and a correspondence reading file with chronologically organized carbon copies of outgoing mail. Invitations and event programs are evidence of the many parties, receptions, private concerts, and art openings the Stevenses were asked to attend; dinner party and reception planning documents also record the many events the Stevenses hosted. Financial records contain a wide range of personal and professional expenditures, including the personal tax records for both Roger L. Stevens and Christine G. Stevens, miscellaneous bills and receipts, and information on checking accounts and investment portfolios with banks such as Irving Trust Company and Morgan Guaranty Trust Company, both of which are represented elsewhere in the collection.

Stevens collected information on investment opportunities with the newspaper the Honolulu Star Bulletin, Tiffany and Company, and electronics manufacturer Technical Services, Inc. A file on Thorley House of Flowers reveals professional and personal contacts to whom he sent flowers in the late 1950s. Writings by Stevens detail his thoughts on the real estate industry. The series also holds the business papers of Rolace, Inc., an office management company that addressed the administrative needs of Stevens's theatrical, real estate, and other business endeavors between 1965 and 1972.

Biographical information in this subseries summarizes Stevens's extensive career and includes an unpublished biography by John Ehle. Stevens's birth certificate, passports, and documentation of his brief service in the United States Navy are found here, as are materials on personal club memberships, and leases and correspondence connected to the Stevenses' residences in Ann Arbor, New York City, and Washington, D. C. Also found here are several items of memorabilia given to Stevens. A folder on paintings records the Stevenses' ownership of a Rouen Cathedral painting by Claude Monet as well as other works of art they owned. The Stevenses' financial records are organized within Office Files. Several folders contain cards and letters sent to Stevens while he was convalescing after his triple bypass heart surgery in 1981. Carbon copies of Stevens's responses are attached to the correspondence. Material on Stevens's memorial service includes the invitation, attendee lists, guest books, and planning documents.

Stevens's correspondence with his family includes letters from his older brother Larry, Larry's wife Sally, his younger brother Harlow, his daughter Christabel, and his wife Christine. For letters from Stevens to Christine, see the Christine G. Stevens subseries. Family papers also hold business papers and correspondence from his parents Stanley G. and Florence O. Stevens. Stanley's papers document real estate and other business activities while Florence's papers consist of personal correspondence, financial records, and school records. Roger Stevens's school records are also found in the subseries documenting his time at Choate School and the University of Michigan. Material types include assignments, correspondence, ephemera, and report cards.

Photographs consist of snapshots of Stevens in his youth and his family, formal portraits, and images of Stevens with others at both formal and casual events. This subseries contains photographs of Stevens with every United States president and first lady from John and Jacqueline Kennedy to Bill and Hillary Clinton. Others pictured with

BOX 253-258	Christine G. Stevens, 1932-2001 Christine Gesell Stevens was born on March 10, 1918, in St. Louis, Missouri, the only child of Robert E. Gesell (1886-1954) and Cora Lees Gesell (1883-1976). The family moved to Ann Arbor, Michigan, in 1923, when Robert Gesell became chair of the Department of Physiology at the University of Michigan. A folder of Robert Gesell's personal correspondence and papers is included in this subseries. Christine attended the University of Michigan and later studied at the Society of Arts and Crafts in Detroit. Several of her drawings are collected here, although some of the sketchbooks may contain the work of her daughter Christabel. Christine drew the Stevens' annual Christmas card, many examples of which are housed here. Also present is correspondence with and between her mother and daughter and letters from her in-laws, Stanley and Florence Stevens. One full document box consists of condolence letters and cards sent to Christine Stevens after her husband's death in 1998. In 1951, Christine Stevens founded the Animal Welfare Institute and remained a lifelong advocate for the fair and ethical treatment of animals. Detailed logs of AWI's first decade are found in this subseries, as is correspondence with fellow animal rights activist Madeline Bemelmans. Business papers and financial records document some of Christine Stevens's investments in her husband's real estate endeavors. Both Christine Stevens and her mother were listed as individual investors for several projects, and their names appear throughout the Real Estate Files . Christine Gesell Stevens died on October 10, 2002, in Washington D. C. Arranged alphabetically by material type or subject matter.

governments. In addition to being awarded both the Presidential Medal of Freedom and the National Medal for the Arts, Stevens was also named a Knight Commander of the British Empire and received medals from the governments of Austria, Germany (West), Italy, and Sweden. Stevens was granted at least 13 honorary degrees, including one from the University of Michigan, an institution he briefly attended. Also found in this series are awards for shows Stevens produced, including a Drama Desk award for Annie (1977); an Outer Critics Circle award for She Loves Me (1994); and Tony Awards for Death of a Salesman (1984) and On Your Toes (1983). Folders also contain correspondence, programs, itineraries, and photographs connected to the awards ceremonies and events.

This subseries holds records for three hotels and five office buildings in which Roger L. Stevens owned a controlling interest. In 1950, Stevens purchased a controlling share in the Belleview-Biltmore Hotel in Belleair, Florida. He maintained at least partial ownership in the property until it was sold in 1990. Present here are the sale closing documents for the hotel as well as agreements, correspondence, daily reports, financial statements, and promotional materials.

In 1955, Stevens was part of a syndicate that briefly owned the Beverly Wilshire Hotel in Beverly Hills, California, buying and selling the complex in the same year. In 1961, Stevens partnered with Hernando Courtright to re-purchase the hotel and maintained an interest in the building into the 1980s. Folders contain correspondence, financial records for the hotel, and documentation on the Courtright Corporation. Through his companies Rostev Realty Corporation and Stevens Development Corporation, Stevens was for a brief time a shareholder of the Commodore Hotel in New York City. Materials include documents on the acquisition of common stock, correspondence, financial records, legal documents, and meeting minutes.

As part of a syndicate, Stevens briefly owned the Empire State Building from 1951 to 1954 and the acquisitions documents of that purchase are found here. He went on to be a partial owner of several other office buildings, including the Cleveland Terminal Tower, the Bankers Building in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, the Wilcox Building in Portland, Oregon, and the Squibb Building at 745 Fifth Avenue in New York City. Stevens was partial owner of the Squibb Building between 1953 and 1955, but he maintained offices there into the early 1970s. Materials include correspondence, financial records, floor plans, meeting minutes, and sales and closing documents.

Arranged alphabetically by building name.

In 1960, Stevens led a group with N. S. Potter III, Charles W. Lyon Jr., and Ezra K. Zilka to form Midwest Holdings Corporation. The purpose of the company was to buy and sell the assets of the Kobacker's department store chain. Although Kobacker's was headquartered in Ohio, material on stores based in Buffalo, New York, are housed in this subseries. Transactions also involved other department stores such as Federal's, Davidson Bros., and Tiedke's. Midwest Holdings later merged with R. R. Leaseholds, Inc., a corporation that was also involved in the construction and leasing of

This subseries documents the development of the Chapel Square Mall in downtown New Haven, Connecticut. Between 1958 and 1961, Stevens founded three separate but overlapping entities to oversee the construction and leasing of the mall: Stevens Church Street Corporation, Stevens New Haven Associates, and Stevens New Haven Development Co., Inc. Architectural firms John Graham and Company and Lathrop Douglass, Inc. were engaged to design and build the mall, and this subseries holds extensive architectural drawings, invoices, mechanical specifications, and reports related to the mall's construction. Agreements, correspondence, and financial records from the Edw. Malley Co. record that local department store's involvement with the project. Materials from the Church Street Redevelopment Project document the history of urban planning in New Haven. Also found here is correspondence with Yale University and mayor of New Haven, Richard C. Lee. Other materials include clippings, contracts, leases, meeting minutes, photographs, stock certificates, transaction records, and materials on tenants.

Arranged alphabetically by organization name and by material type therein.

BOX 338-365, 424, 427	Seattle, Washington, 1871-2002 (bulk 1953-1997) Stevens's involvement in the Seattle real estate market began in 1953 when he partnered with Alfred R. Glancy Jr., Ben Tobin, and H. Adams Ashforth to form University Properties, Inc. The real estate firm managed the leases on a tract of land owned by the University of Washington in the center of downtown Seattle. Known as the Metropolitan Tract, it encompasses the Rainer Tower, Puget Sound Plaza, IBM Building, and Union Square buildings one and two. In 1975, University Properties, Inc. rebranded and became UNICO Properties, Inc. UNICO maintained the management of the University of Washington's leases throughout Stevens's lifetime. This subseries holds business records and correspondence between UNICO's board of directors, presidents, and CEOs including James M. Ryan, Donald Covey, and Dave Cortelyou. Other materials include agreements, clippings, financial records, legal documents, meeting minutes, operating summaries, photographs, project reports, and other operation records. Also found in this subseries are materials documenting the management of additional properties in Seattle such as the World Trade Center Seattle, the Raja Tract, the Seneca Street project, and the remodeling and reopening of the Fifth Avenue Theater. Fifth Avenue Theater folders contain information on Stevens's theatrical pursuits on the west coast. Arranged alphabetically according to organization or project name and by material type therein.

Appendix A

Appendix B

The Roger L. Stevens library lists books, pamphlets, and scripts originally donated with the collection. The inventory notes annotations and inscriptions where applicable and provides links to editions already held by the Library of Congress.
