Bulk Dates: (bulk 1960s-1970s) Call No.: LOT 13630 (H)

Creator: Plowden, David, photographer, donor.

Extent: 164 photographic prints: gelatin silver; 11 x 14 in.

Language: Collection material in English

Location: Prints and Photographs Division, Library of Congress, Washington, D.C.

LC Catalog record: https://lccn.loc.gov/2004681688

Summary: This collection of large-format photographs depicts rural, small town, industrial, and urban landscape scenes; vernacular structures such as barns; and transportation systems and technologies (railroads, ferries, steamships, and roadways). Many images document vanishing aspects of the built environment. There are also several portraits of people working in transportation or other professions, such as conductors, a blacksmith, and a shopkeeper. The images are from more than 30 states in the continental United States and 3 provinces in Canada.

Online Content: To see already digitized images from this collection, search our Online Catalog by call number or descriptive words.

Provenance

Gift; David Plowden; 1981; (DLC/PP-1981:153).

Processing History

The David Plowden collection was processed by staff in the Prints and Photographs Division in 2004. This finding aid contains unverified data from an old container list. EAD finding aid was encoded by Owen Ellis in 2021. Titles of photographs were provided by the creator. Hand-written organizational markings by the photographer are on the verso of each print and are recorded in the container list with the header "Note:"

Biographical Note

David Plowden (b. 1932), a noted documentary photographer and author, graduated from Yale University in 1955. As a boy, he photographed trains, and his early work captured the last years of steam locomotives. As a self-employed photographer, he "made a career of being one step ahead of the wrecking ball." He presented his images in his own books (about railroads, barns, bridges, small towns, steel, and the American landscape) and in other publications and many exhibits.

Scope and Content Note

A small collection of images by photographer David Plowden of buildings, transportation, infrastructure, and rural and urban settings across the United States and Canada. The photographer provided English language hand-written captions for each photograph and signed and dated in pencil the backs of each print. These large-format photographs show details of vernacular architecture buildings such as barns; rural, small town, industrial, and urban landscape scenes; and transportation (railroads, ferries, steamships, and roadways). Also includes several portraits. The images are from more than 30 states in the continental United States and 3 provinces in Canada.

Arrangement

The photographs are arranged roughly in chronological order.
